Visit to the Red Fort

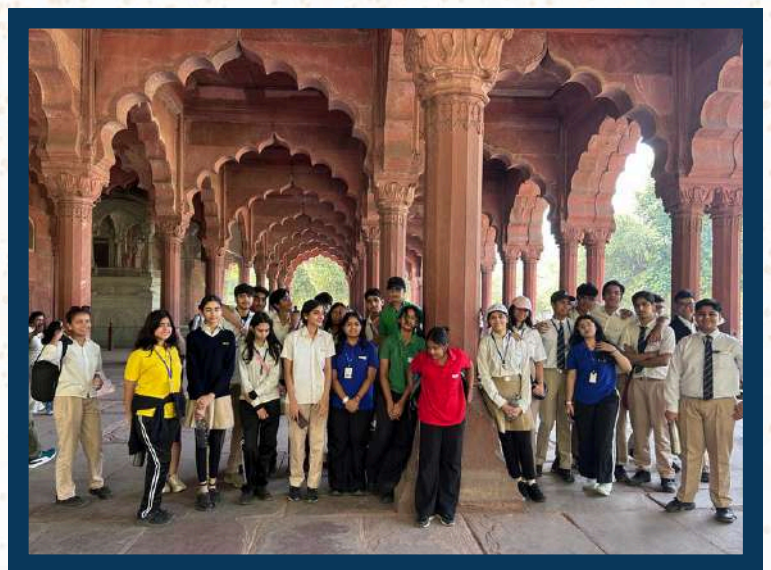

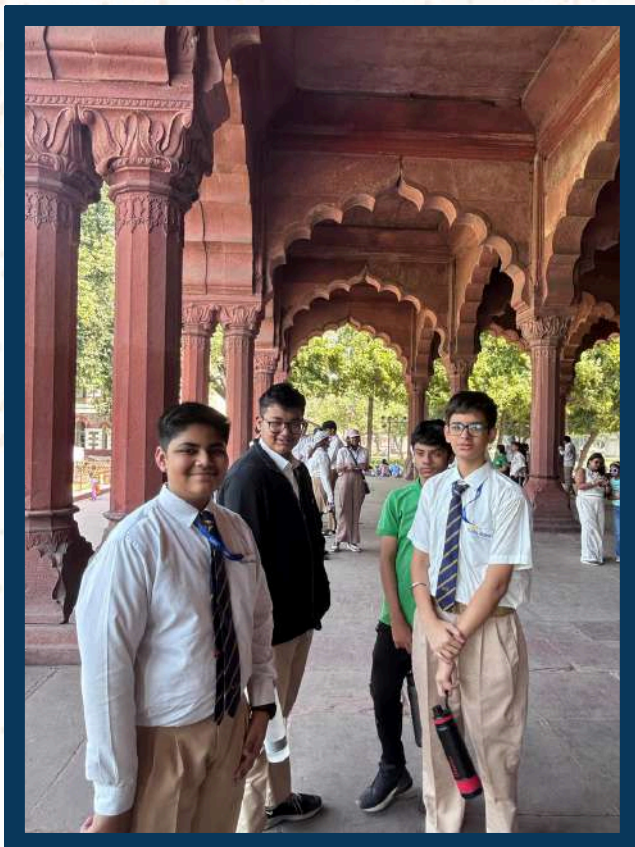

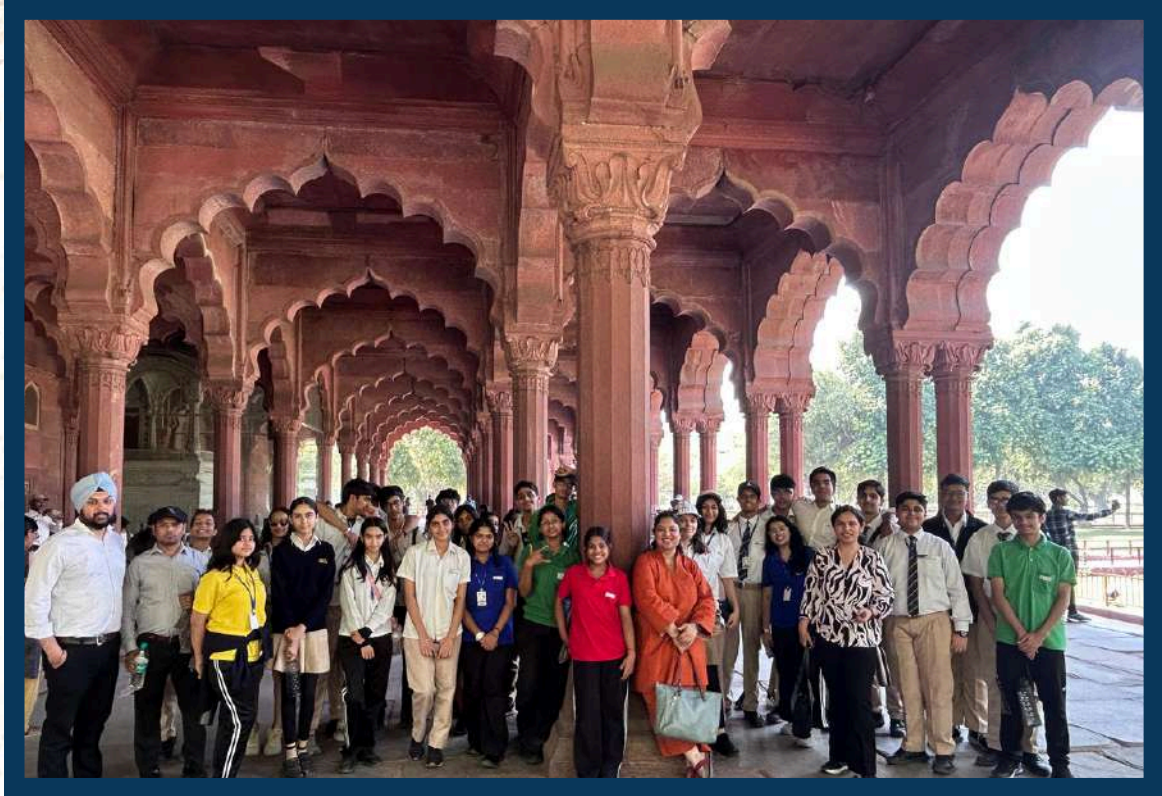

"Learning beyond textbooks! - Exploring the Red Fort's rich heritage."

Our students from Grades 9 to 11 recently embarked on an educational trip to the historic Red Fort, a symbol of India's rich heritage and resilience. The visit provided them with a deeper understanding of Mughal architecture, history, and the significance of this iconic monument.

Diwan-i-Aam

The Hall of Public Audience—with its majestic arches and red sandstone design, it stands as a symbol of justice. Here the Mughal emperors addressed the public and heard their petitions

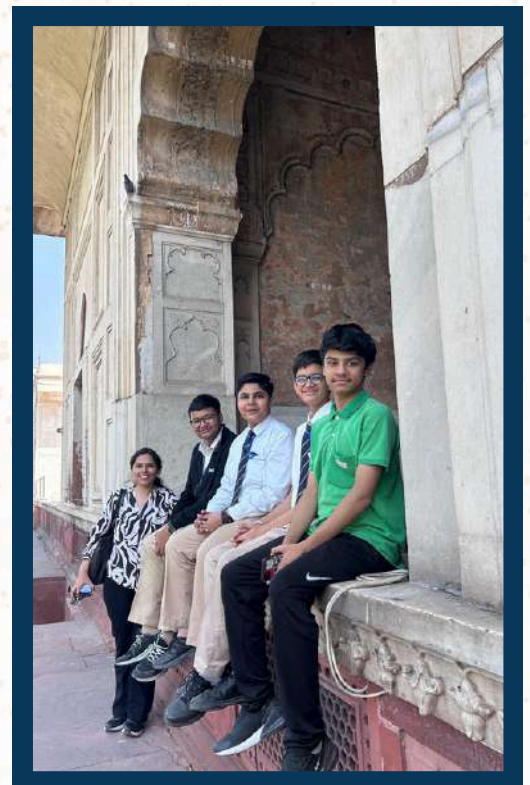

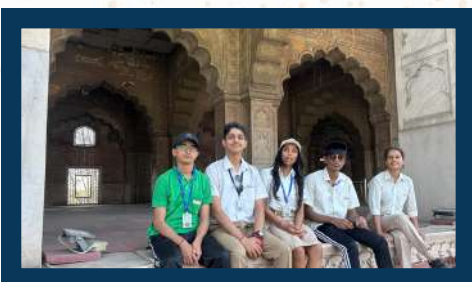

Diwan-i-Khas

The Hall of Royal Grandeur—adorned with intricate carvings and once home to the famous Peacock Throne, it echoes the grandeur of a bygone era.

Rang Mahal

The Palace of Colors this vibrant palace in the Red Fort was adorned with ornate mirrors, floral paintings, and a flowing water stream, reflecting the splendor of Mughal architecture.

The Lahori Gate is the main entrance of the Red Fort in Delhi. Made of red sandstone, it leads to Chatta Chowk, a historic marketplace.
