

A VISIT TO MEHRAULI ARCHEOLOGICAL PARK

Students of Amity Global School Gurgaon of Grades 3 to 9 went for an educational visit to the Mehrauli Archaeological Park.

Mehrauli Archaeological Park, a treasure trove of history in Delhi, is home to the iconic Qutub Minar, the world's tallest brick minaret. This UNESCO World Heritage Site stands as a testament to India's rich architectural and cultural legacy.

The students observed the tall and beautiful Qutub Minar, constructed from red sandstone and marble.

They also viewed the iron pillar, built during the reign of Chandragupta II, which still stands today, showcasing historical conquests that can be learned through its inscriptions.

The students admired the magnificent Alai Minar, which highlighted the architecture of the Delhi Sultanate.

They also explored the Alai Darwaza, Quwwat-ul-Islam Mosque, and Qutub Gardens. The visit was very enriching and informative for students.
